

California Casino News

March 8-14, 2021

Rolling Hills Casino expands, looking to hire several employees

Click here to view article

Rolling Hills Casino in Corning is expanding, adding four new restaurants and it needs a lot of help.

Action News Now got a tour of one of the restaurants under construction.

Inside the nearly 56,000 square foot project, you might encounter construction crews hard at work.

Sacramento casino wars heat up. Here's the $100M expansion planned for Thunder Valley

Pandemic or no pandemic, a construction boom is heating up in the Sacramento area's ultra-competitive gambling industry as Indian tribes continue to fight for supremacy.

Thunder Valley Casino Resort in Lincoln plans to break ground Tuesday on a $100 million indoor entertainment center. The center, to be called The Venue at Thunder Valley, will seat as many as 5,000 people when it opens in late 2022 and will sit adjacent to the casino itself, tribal spokesman Doug Elmets said Friday.

Click here to view article

Elk Grove casino construction months away, but Sky River resort hotel will have to wait

Click here to view article

Elk Grove residents should start seeing work in the coming months on the new Sky River Casino in the sprint to a late 2022 open, but will have to wait for a hotel to rise from the site.

The Wilton Rancheria tribe and Las Vegas-based Boyd Gaming turned shovels in a Tuesday groundbreaking for the $400 million project off Highway 99 and Kammerer Road. Boyd spokesman David Strow on Thursday said the tribe and Boyd will focus on erecting Sky River's casino and dining options in time for the target late-2022 date.