

California Casino News

May 27-June 9, 2019

Happy Belated Father's Day to everyone! I hope you had a wonderful time celebrating this weekend.

In the news this week we have Chicken Ranch Rancheria of Me-Wuk Indians with an official ribbon cutting for the new offerings. The new offerings now feature tables and so much more. In Southern California we had La Jolla Band Of Luiseno Indians get their kicks on the 76 when they opened their class II gaming facility. The La Jolla Trading Post Casino did their grand opening with a 100% smoke free facility. It's a big name with worldwide recognition which may be coming to Kern County. Kern County plans for a Hard Rock Hotel and Casino.

Chicken Ranch Casino Celebrates Expansion

Tribal leaders were on hand for an official ribbon cutting this morning for the new offerings at the Chicken Ranch Casino. Owned and operated by the Chicken Ranch Rancheria of Me-Wuk Indians, the casino first opened in 1985, and the most recent addition/expansion occurred eight years ago.

La Jolla rez opens smoke free Trading Post Casino on Hwy 76

Thursday afternoon the La Jolla Band of Luiseño Indians invited their neighbors to "Get Your Kicks on 76" when they opened one of the only entirely Class II gaming facilities in California: The La Jolla Trading Post Casino. Located off Hwy 76 at 22003 Hwy 76, Pauma Valley, it is an entirely smoke-free facility. La Jolla Tribal Chairman Fred Nelson Jr. led the festivities, cutting the ribbon and welcoming well-wishers into the new mini-casino.

Proposed Kern County casino would be Hard Rock hotel, entertainment venue

It's a big name with worldwide recognition and it may be coming to Kern County. Plans for a Hard Rock Hotel and Casino are steps closer to completion.
